Professor George A. Dillman
10th degree black belt in Ryukyu Kempo Tomari-te

Come and help George Dillman celebrate his 69th birthday at the Holiday Inn Stevenage. This will be George's 3rd 3 day camp in the UK EVER, and you have a chance to be there. Not only this, but on the Saturday evening there will be a banquet and bash for George's birthday, with dancing, a live vocalist and karaoke!

George Dillman is the foremost authority on Tuite and Kyusho Jitsu (pressure point grappling and striking) hidden within the traditional movements of the old martial arts forms. He has rediscovered a formerly secret level of meaning for kata movements, and has made that interpretation understandable to all.

George has spent forty-plus years in the martial arts, twenty-five of these years searching for the secrets that other people only talked about. In this period of time he has studied, researched, and traveled all over the world studying with great masters and working with medical personnel (neurologists) to turn up what he has found - the Dillman method of pressure point self-defence.

As Instructor of the Year in the Black Belt Hall of Fame, and Combat Hall of fame 2006 George is one of the USA's best-known and well-established martial arts personalities.
